TESTIMONIAL

YMCA has given my children a chance to gain confidence, build strength, and find joy through sport. My daughter has fallen in love with gymnastics. The pride she feels when she accomplishes new skills carries over into her personal and school life. She is learning important life lessons while she has fun being active. Her joy just overflows during her class. As a transracial adoptee, it's also been a great experience for her to be in classes in an environment where she sees other children and families who look like her, and for her to build a new friendship built around their joy in gymnastics. My son has participated in the soccer league for three seasons. His soccer skills have greatly improved, but more importantly, he has had a chance to work with great coaches who emphasize growth and teamwork. It has kept him physically active, giving him a break from gaming and school. The YMCA soccer program is his favorite because it is challenging but still a lot of fun. We are very proud to be members and to see our kids grow and find joy at the YMCA.
